Pack Expo International

a preview

Expo offers more than 100 educational sessions

Pack Expo International will take place October 14-17 in Chicago, IL. The show is co-located with Healthcare Packaging Expo, and organizers expect more than 50,000 attendees, including engineers, purchasers, QC personnel, packaging designers, and logistics and supply chain managers from the pharmaceutical, personal care, and food industries. The show floor will host 2,500 suppliers of packaging equipment, materials, containers, automation technologies, and supply-chain solutions.

Education

Attendees can choose from more than 100 educational sessions during the 3-day conference and expo. At the Innovation Stage locations, suppliers will present 30-minute seminars focused on topics such as pharmaceutical device industry trends, coding and serialization technology, supply-chain visibility, brand protection, patient adherence, machine vision solutions, residual product recovery, and packaging hard-to-hold drug formulations. On the show floor—which is divided into different pavilions focused on package printing, containers and materials, confectionery, and reusable packaging—many exhibitors will perform live, in-booth demos. T&C
