

CPhI Worldwide

a preview

Exhibition expected to feature more than 2,500 exhibitors

CPhI Worldwide, a trade show on APIs and excipients, takes place October 9-11 in Madrid, Spain. Co-located with ICSE (contract research, development, and manufacturing), InnoPack (packaging), P-Mec (pharmaceutical machinery), and FDF (finished dosage formulation), the exposition will host more than 2,500 exhibitors. Last year's event was attended by 45,000 pharmaceutical professionals representing various sectors of the pharmaceutical industry and more than 150 countries.

Education

The 3-day trade show and conference will feature Pharma Insight Briefings, free educational seminars covering topics such as pharmaceutical packaging, market entry, mergers and acquisitions, technological developments, and innovations in pharmaceutical ingredients and biologics. On October 9, Martin Junginger from Gelita will discuss how to manufacture enteric softgels in one step.

On October 10, Lynne Byers of NSF International will present "Managing the Pharmaceutical Supply Chain." Additional seminars will feature presenters from industry-leading companies such as ACG, Qualicaps, Lonza, and Catalent. For a complete list, visit www.cphi.com/europe/agenda.

On the same day from 8:00 am to 11:30 pm, CPhI will host the Women in Leadership Forum, which will focus on talent acquisition and discuss how companies can source and retain talented employees. Attendees will also have an opportunity to network with other women in the pharmaceutical industry.

On the same day in the North Convention Center from 10:30 am to 5:00 pm, the Big Data and Machine Learning Summit Europe will explore how advances in machine learning and artificial intelligence are helping the pharmaceutical industry streamline processes, increase efficiencies, and better understand patients and outcomes. T&C
