a preview

Pharmaceutical trade show moves to Midwest

CPhI North America, a pharmaceutical trade show, has moved from Philadelphia, PA, to Chicago, IL, and will take place April 30-May 2. According to show organizers, Chicago is an ideal location for the expo and conference, because the Midwest boasts a growing life sciences sector, houses several major pharmaceutical and medical device companies, and employs more than 300,000 professionals in the bioscience industry.

Organizers anticipate more than 6,500 attendees from every sector of the pharmaceutical supply chain and 670 national and international exhibitors specializing in drug development, manufacturing ingredients, fine and specialty chemicals, bioprocessing, machinery, packaging, and finished drug products. In addition to being able to source products and services from vendors, attendees will have the opportunity to network with other pharmaceutical professionals, learn from industry leaders at various educational sessions, and see the latest industry innovations.
