Natural products trade show to host NSF GMP workshops

SupplySide West—a trade show that provides educational and networking resources for professionals in the dietary supplement, food, beverage, personal care and sports nutrition industries—takes place October 15-19 in Mandalay Bay Hotel, Las Vegas, NV. Organizers anticipate more than 1,300 exhibitors and 17,000 attendees from the health and nutrition industry.

Education

The conference will feature more than 140 hours of education and training sessions, workshops, and summits.

On Tuesday and Wednesday, October 15 and 16, NSF International will hold a 2-day training course on cGMPs in manufacturing, packaging, labeling, or holding operations for dietary supplements. The course provides an in-depth review of the 21 CFR 111 GMPs regulation and provides case studies to review recent FDA warning letters sent to dietary supplement companies for non-compliance. The workshop is geared toward dietary supplement technical professionals involved in manufacturing, management, packaging and labeling, supply and distribution, QC/QA, laboratory operations, auditing, and regulatory affairs and compliance.

Attendees can also choose from several one-day NSF workshops on Tuesday and Wednesday. Topics include the Food Safety Modernization Act, batch production records, dietary supplement claim substantiation, botanical testing, vendor qualification and auditing training, and dietary supplement label claim compliance.

Several 2- or 3-hour SupplySide West workshops are scheduled each day of the conference and will cover market trends and demographics, clinical research on ingredients, formulation considerations, and regulatory changes and impacts, among other topics.

Summits

On October 16 from 9:00 am to 5:00 pm, the expo will host two day-long summits. The “CBD from Seed to Shelf: The Supply Side Story” summit offers education and discussion on proprietary market trend data, seed genetics and extraction technologies, testing considerations, and the regulatory landscape. The second summit, “Finding New Pathways in Sports Nutrition,” explores new approaches to market innovation and showcases emerging ingredients for the development of new products for active consumers.

AHPA Botanical Congress

On the last day of the trade show, the American Herbal Products Association’s (AHPA) Botanical Congress will take place from 7:30 am to 5:00 pm. The summit will focus on educating dietary supplement ingredient suppliers and manufacturers on regulatory compliance. Other topics that will be covered include political advocacy, financial trends and opportunities shaping the supplements industry, sustainability, and regulatory and scientific focus on cannabis, CBD, and hemp.
